

OPPORTUNITY – DRILLER HELPER

Redmoor Tin – Tungsten Project, Cornwall

Energold Drilling EMEA has been contracted to carry out an exploration drilling programme for Cornwall Resources Limited, exploring the exciting Redmoor tin-tungsten deposit. The project is located near Kelly Bray, close to Callington, Cornwall.

The significant exploration drilling program is aimed at increasing the high-grade potential underground resource and is planned to start in March 2017.

The Opportunity

Energold EMEA is inviting applications for the posts of Driller Helpers. The Driller Helpers will be responsible for supporting the driller and drilling operations in the day-to-day implementation of drilling activities. They will report directly to the Drillers and Driller Supervisor. They will ensure that the policies and procedures of Energold EMEA are followed, and that work is completed safely and professionally, to a good standard, and on a timely and cost effective basis. They will seek at all times to maintain positive relationships with the local community.

This role will be based working at the field site, starting during March 2017, for a duration of approximately 6 months. The successful candidate needs either to be based within daily driving distance, or to be willing to relocate to the locality at their own expense.

This role could provide a useful opportunity for someone interested in starting a drilling career and Energold EMEA are committed to supplying training and further career opportunities to suitable candidates. This is a non-technical position, and will involve manual handling, housekeeping and logistical support work. Much of the working day may be spent outside.

Requirements: Qualifications and Experience

- Current UK/EU driving licence with no more than 6 penalty points
- Right to work in the UK

To apply please send a C.V. with a brief covering letter addressed to Matthew Durdin Robertson, Project Manager, by email to: mdurdinrobertson@energoldgroup.com

The closing date for this position is 5th March 2017.

11 Dene Valley Business Park
Brookhampton Lane
Kineton
Warwickshire
CV35 0JD
United Kingdom

Telephone: 01926 691 036